

Data loss prevention

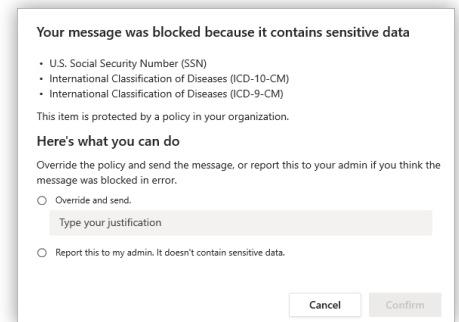

With Microsoft Teams, your organization can create security policies to prevent sensitive information from being shared.

Blocking sensitive information

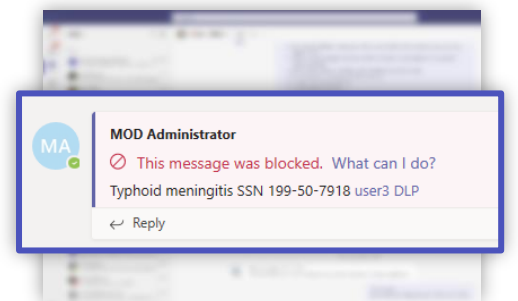

1 For example, if a message contains a Credit Card number, Teams will block it...

2 ... and send you a helpful policy tip.

3 The policy also applies to data protection.

4 Any person who doesn't have permission to access documents containing that information will be prevented from opening it.
